NEW QUESTION: 1

Scenario: A Citrix Administrator recently created and deployed a new vDisk to all Desktop OS machines. The morning after making that change, users are unable to launch their Desktop OS machines. The administrator finds that the Desktop OS machines associated with the new vDisk are shut down and in maintenance mode.

How could the administrator resolve this issue?

- A. Create Desktop OS machine Active Directory accounts manually and restart all the machines.
- B. Disable the machine account password changes policy through the GPO in the organizational unit where the target devices are located.
- C. Disable Maintenance mode on the device collection.
- D. Select 'Enable Active Directory machine account password management' on the vDisk.
